Executive Summary

The State of Texas, by and through the Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC), seeks qualified Respondents to solicit applications to be considered for funding through the Women's Health Programs (WHP), Breast and Cervical Cancer Services (BCCS).

The BCCS program provides women with low incomes access to quality breast and cervical cancer screening and diagnostic services which positively impact their health and well-being. BCCS intends to increase access to screening, diagnostics and/or treatment services. BCCS requires successful program management, eligibility determination, initiation of or referral to treatment if clinically indicated, quality management, professional development, recruitment including public education and outreach and data collection, including tracking, referrals, follow-up and continuity of care.
